At the meeting of the Racing Board the office of official referrée will be created, which will be tendered to Frederick Jenkins of New Rochelle, as announced in The Sus. Mr. Jenkins is regarded as a man particularly qualified to fill the position. He was at various times Chairman of the Racing Board, Secretary of the League, and official handicapper. His experience with L. A. W. matters and racing has placed him in high esteem with the officials of the League of American Wheelmen, and he was George D. Gideon's first choice for the position.

The wheelmen of Brooklyn have complained to Chief Consul Potter that the evele path from Prospect Park to Coney Island, for the construction of which they subscribed $3,500, is being ruined by horses from the racing stables at Parkville and that vicinity being exercised upon the path. The preparatory foundation only is hid, but this has been badly cut up. The money subscribed for the construction of the path has been furned over to Park Commissioner Squire, and he assured the wheelmen that he will have the new pathway completed for them early in the spring. On this account the wheelmen feel that no responsibility rests with them for any injury to the pathway. A complaint

A BANK CASHIER'S SUICIDE.

Henry P. Wing, Long a Trusted Official in Worcesten, Mass., March 7 .- Henry F. Wing. ne of the oldest and best known citizens of Grafton, committed suicide by shooting some time between 7 o'clock last night and 1:30 this morning. He was missed about 10 o'clock, and, the family becoming anxious, George K. Nichols and Ernest Dodge began a search, which restall in his barn, lying upon his back with a bullet hole in his head over the right temple.

Mr. Wing was for thirty-eight years cashler of the Grafton National Bank, for thirty years treasurer of the Savings Bank, and for a quarter of a century had been Town Treasurer. A meeting of the directors of the bank was held on Wednesday evening, and lights were seen in the No such meeting was ever known to have been held before.

Mr. Wing had been administrator of various

brought against him growing out of his connection with estates. In one suit brought against him his property was attached by beputy Sheriff J. M. Drennan for $150,000 in an action of contract brought by William T. Forbes, Judge of Probate. The case was entered in the Supreme Judicial Court in December, and has not been heard. This is a suit on a probate court bond, Mr. Wing being the executor of the will of Jonathan D. Wheeler, late of Gratton. Mr. Wing furnished a personal bond of $150,000 without sureties. Some time ago Judge Forbes ordered him to file a personal account within a specified time. The account has never been filed.

Mr. Wing was reflected Town Treasurer at the annual town meeting Monday and was also a Justice of the Peace and a notary public. About nins years ago he represented Graffon in the Legislature. During the war he was internal Revenue Collector and had he'd many other offices of trust. He was twice married.

The directors of the bank are confident that everything is all right with Mr. Wing's accounts. It is believed that he was suffering from insanity brought on by a recent severe case of the grip and by worry over the settlement of an estate. The directors state that the meeting last night was not called for any special purpose and had no connection with Mr. Wing's suicide in any way whatever. each closed club event or athletic meeting

CUT MRS. TUTTLE'S THROAT.

Thomas Rudden of Mineola was convicted yesterday before Judge Fitzgerald in the Court of General Sessions of assault in the first demercy. Rudden was accused of cutting the throat of Mrs. Margaret Tuttle, a housekeeper, of 422 East 124th street, on Jan. 25, in Seventh avenue, between 139th and 140th streets. There were no eyewitnesses of the crime. Po-lice Captain Thompson testified that Rudden had admitted the crime and said that he had mistaken Mrs. Tuttle for his mother-in-law.

mistaken Mrs. Tuttle for his mother-in-law. Rudden said further: "If she had been my mother-in-law I would have cut her whole head off."

Mrs. Tuttle testified under difficulties. She said the injury to her throat interfered with her speech, as her windpipe had been cut. She was walking up Seventh avenue at 8 o'clock, when a man came up, seized her by the hair of the head, drew her head back, and cut her throat. She could not identify the prisoner. Rudden testified that he beard a woman's scream and ran across the street and picked up a bloody knife. He threw it away snd started to walk away. He returned and was arrestel. He had never seen the woman before and denied having cut her throat. He said that Capt. Thompson grabbed him by the hair and raid: "If you don't tell me the truth I'll smash your face." Capt. Thompson afterward admitted that he had used the words, "I'll smash your face," but denied having been profane.

THURSDAY, March 7. Three-fifths of the transactions in stocks to-day were in Sugar Befining, a proportion that was so large that all other dealings appeared unimportant. The movement in Sugar Refining was incidental to the declaration of the usual quarterly dividend of 3 $\psi$ cent. The Street has been in the main skeptical about this dividend, and its views have found expression in sales of short stock. There was, therefore, a fairly large short interest for the insiders to work upon after they had made up their minds to declare the usual dividend. Until shortly before the dividead was announced, extensive purchases of Sugar Refining failed to advance the price very at 1 o'clock, to act upon the dividend, until the close of husiness, the price advanced steadily. and the final figures recorded were the highest for the day. They showed a net advance of 3%

The prevailing impression is that the profits of the company during the three months for which the dividend was declared have not been equal to the amount that will be distributed among the stockholders; but as it is now some years since the company made any statement whatever of its earnings the sources of its dividend disbursements can only be conjectured. It is an idiosyncrasy of the speculative commu-nity worth noting at this time that it has alof them did the fluctuations, which were narrow, reflect anything more than the fitful views of room traders. The closing was generally firm, at about the best prices. TO THE HOLDERS OF

Northern Pacific Railroad Co. Second Mortgage Bonds.

By an order of the United States Circuit Court for this Committee, has been made a party defendant in the action brought by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. against the Northern Pacific R. R. Co. for the fore closure of the Second and subsequent Mortgages upon its property and for other purposes; and THE SECOND MORTGAGE RONDHOLDERS ARE NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME REP. RESENTED BY A PERSON ACTING SOLELY IN THEIR INTERESTS, One of the objects of this Committee has therefore been as complished, for it has always been clear to this Committee that the Trust Company claiming to represent as Trustee the Second, Third, and Consondated More gage Bondholders and the holders of Collateral Trust Notes, could not adequately and properly represent Second Morigage Bonds. As Judge Jenkins says: "A Trustee cannot be permitted to assume a position in consistent with or in opposition to his trust. His duty is single, and he cannot serve two masters with an tagonistic interests."

This Committee represents only Second Mortgage Bondholders; for as Judge Jenkins also truly says

"The Adams Committee therefore stands in the The Adams Committee Inerefore stands in the same plight with the complaints: truite under all the mortgages. Its interest would be not only to pro-tect the General Second and General Third Mortgages, but also the Consolidated Mortgage, and possibly fu-interest under the General Second and General Third under the Consolidated Mortgage."

We call the attention of Second Mortgage Bondholders to the above decision, trusting that they will Copies of the opinion of the Court may be obtained
